I am very happy to announce that! Tanya Rudzik will give a great talk on "Polyamory in the Young Adult Lit and Film" at the upcoming "Going Raw" foodie get-together which will take place on Saturday, March 15th, 2015. Tanya has a considerable following on Facebook and on twitter (@tanyarudzik) and her blogs, (I Am A Polyamorous Woman.) Myself, I love her style which is very "author-ish" (like this one for example) and sometimes even more unusual. Tanya speaks from her own experience, and both her and her husband, Dwayne, have a very easy going attitude to everything they do, they are lovely people. Many people have requested a podcast about Polyamory that I released on Dwayne and Tanya's Poly podcast in October. If you miss the podcast you can get the podcast back on iTunes from this link Polyamory in the Young Adult Lit and Film Tanya has been interviewed on a number of podcasts including This American Life, In the Light, Geek Speak, and The Real Egyptologists, but of course, I'll get back to her on Preeti's Pooja Show. We look forward to having you there at "Going Raw", in any way you can come, if you can. "Going Raw" is an annual event which takes place in my home on the first Saturday of each month. Since I am really missing the beach at the moment I would love to have a Santa Monica type beach get-together so I can bring my dog Waffles along. If you would like to connect with Tanya or Dwayne or to "go raw", please feel free to connect with them on the following places: Twitter: @tanyarudzik Facebook: Blog: It's going to be a real treat to have a polyamorous talk and meet some of Tanya's friends. ? Thank you for making this possible. Darryl

How to Make a Holiday Cookie Tree By Cheryl Comins Holiday parties are known for their food. From finger foods to full-fledged spreads and platters, holiday foods can be the focal point of any celebration. When designing party foods for the holiday season, think about the children, as most of the food is already made or purchased. Making a holiday cookie tree is a great way to start your holiday party off on the right foot with the children. Things You'll Need: Wooden cookie cutters Wax paper Baking sheet Wooden star cookie cutter Cookie cutters Ruler Glue Hot wax Ribbon Wooden star cookie cutter X-Acto knife Cake decorating kits Ribbons, bows and other holiday decorations Step 1 Cut the cookies into the proper shapes with your cookie cutters. Set the cookies on the baking sheet and place in the refrigerator to cool. Step 2 When the cookies have cooled, use your wood star cookie cutter and the rounded side of your cake decorating kit to create a star shape. Holding the star on a flat surface, apply a coat of hot wax to the star sides using a brush or paint roller. Cover the entire surface with the wax, being careful not to pull the star shape out of shape. Step 3 Once you have applied all the hot wax, let the star sit on the wax to cool. The star is now ready for attaching to the cookie tree. Step 4 Use your wooden star cookie cutter to cut a small hole in each of the star points. If you are using a paint roller, first coat the star with the hot wax; then place a piece of cardboard on top and roll with the paint roller to apply the paint. Step 5 Place the star on the tree trunks with the star points facing up. Place the star in the open cut-out of the cookie tree. Step 6 Continue cutting small star-shaped holes in the tops of the cookie trees to attach the stars. Allow the stars to dry for 30 to 60 minutes. Step 7 Once the stars are dry, glue the stars to the tree with a small amount of hot glue. Step 8 Add the remaining cookie trees to the cookie tree with the star. Step 9
