A redesigned semi-mech with a fight efficiency unprecedented in the history of the gaming industry. A new Fusion Round mode, and now your Fusion Round count will count towards the time needed to recharge your weapon. New customizable Jet modes that allow you to quicken your movement and boost your own attack energy. A new planetary map section, with several great new features and an all-new gameplay experience! Training modules that will turn you into the top rank Rider available to the Rangers! The ultimate video game RPG! Mori-e Raijin Kaname: a master made of steel and steel. A humble man of arms, who experienced the complete destruction of his family and his village. And his only wish in life is to defend this world, no matter the cost. Founded by the Rangers, the humble group of warriors, in order to protect the planet, they are now on a new mission: the complete annihilation of the Demonoid. In a world where the end is nigh, only one man can be saved from the world's end. In this new and crazy universe, the ninja world is in absolute chaos. In order to survive, to protect Earth, you need to defeat the Demonoid before the end of the world comes. The story of a hero reborn. But don't be fooled. Mori-e isn't a simple hero, he's a monster. His abilities were developed purely for self-defense, with nothing else in mind. Today, the legendary fighter, Mori-e, returns to action. And this time, he's riding on a mechanized motorcycle with a balance that's like nothing else seen before. Your goal is to complete the new missions of Earth Defense Force 5. And achieve the greatest score you can get. Fight your way through the levels. Defeat the enemies. And test your combo system to the limit! But beware, Mori-e is still just a man of steel, a hero of the speedway world. A man of steel, but also a man of metal. An expert of the bike. A master of all weapons. You can even command the Saber-ok! The special weapon, upgraded by the Rangers themselves. Equipped with an electrical force, it allows you to turn the Saber into a blade of light, slicing into enemies. And your bike. Now upgraded with the Joints project, it�

We are always looking for new ideas and suggestions. Today's interview is the second part of the series of "Ten Questions from Ten Indie Game Developers". The first interview featured Ville Laihiala (Fusion Software).Today's interview is with Tim Lambert (Sniper: Gatling). - I have read about Fusion Software, you seem to be a great example of a small indie team that works with a lot of passion. What's the development history of your company and its partners? Fusion Software was started in 2002 by Ville Laihiala (16) and Renée Jacobsen (15) who had been working together at www.arcadefluences.com for almost a year. At first we were just a small, passionate team of two working from Renée's and Ville's homes. Then in 2005 the website was acquired by E-Play (and we were able to get the funds to expand. Now we have 6 people working for Fusion Software. - Where are you located and what's your office like? We are located in downtown Helsinki, Finland. We have an office in downtown, and another one at an artists studio in the suburbs. In the end they are connected by a network of passageways underneath the city. - I saw that you have worked for Electronic Arts, was this a direct job

Free Ashes Of The Singularity: Escalation - Gauntlet DLC PC/Windows

The year is 2019. A year after the Apollo programme, we have discovered that the mission's astronauts, Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin, were returning to Earth alive. Returning to Earth was no mean feat. The Apollo landers had to avoid colliding with the many meteorites and debris that rain down on the lunar surface. The Apollo landers had no propulsion system or airbags for cushioning the crash on the lunar surface. Instead, they were guided by the flight computer on a path calculated to ensure their survival. The Saturn V rocket used in the Apollo missions was larger than a Saturn V rocket, but a fraction of its mass compared with the spacecraft, and it has landed safely on the lunar surface so many times that it has become routine. In this new edition of the Lunar Lander, you are one of the mission controllers as you drive the Lunar Roving Vehicle used during the Apollo missions. The LRO exploration vehicle looks exactly as it was in 1969. The mission controllers are able to turn the vehicle in any direction and then fully brake it to a halt. You will experience the unique characteristics of the vehicle in low gravity environment. You will explore a 36 km² map inspired by real geographical features of the moon. You will discover new lunar landscape and landing sites. In this new edition, you can also experience Armstrong's famous Moonwalk! Features Lunar Roving Vehicle - Drive the Lunar Roving Vehicle used during the Apollo missions. - Experience the unique characteristics of driving in a low gravity environment. - Explore a 36 km² map inspired by real geographical features of the moon. - Discover unique lunar landscapes and landing sites. Emotion Engine - The moon is waiting to be explored. From the comfort of your sofa, you can control the fate of an intrepid pair of astronauts! - Touch the screen to display the action. - Engage the vehicle's thrusters to steer, brake or turn the wheel. - Use the special buttons to jump. - After each mode, feel the rush and get ready to touch the surface of the moon. Orbit Control - The course of Apollo 11 was carefully planned and executed by mission controllers. In this new edition, you can select and control the trajectory of the vehicle on the one-of-a-kind solar orbit graphic map of the moon. Guiding the Vehicle - Perform all functions to guide the vehicle. - Touch the screen
