This week, we will be looking at the new gear set, L.E.D. Compact, and what it provides to players! This new set is said to be improved, but also limited in comparison to the Energy Compact. Hello, everyone. MajorNova here, and welcome to another Patch Note from JCPD Gear Pack. Today, we will take a closer look at the new L.E.D. Compact, and how it is going to shape the set that we have in store for the community. New Gear Set for 2018 △ Energy Compact view △ L.E.D. Compact view △ L.E.D. Compact view is quite similar, but there is a difference in pattern, each colored diamond is different from each other. Each time if we open the window, there will be some difference. As of right now, we are looking for tips and tricks on how to optimize the Burst Fire, so keep updated, and get your information in order! Difference between the two? △ Comparison view of old and new L.E.D. Compact When it comes to the energy of using this new set, it was stated that the burst will be different, from from the 360 Elites Right Away to the 180 Elites. This means the attack condition will be different. However, the 300 and 200 Elites will mostly be using the old energy gun. Still, the difference in statistics is a lot, even though it is small. We are waiting for people to try this set, and determine if there is any noticeable advantages. New Stuff L.E.D. Compact? That brings us to why the community finds this set interesting. Improved Effect and Precision of its Burst Fire Upgrade. It will also be able to minimize the Damage our turret does, as long as we maximize correct Burst Fire timing. The catch? Once you press the E button to initiate Burst Fire, the gun will go in Burst Mode. This can be a dangerous game, as you do not know where it will fire the next round. It is best to try, and see what you can handle. If you hit a turret, you can also keep pressing the E button, and the turret will go in
