Memories

Gael's Quest is a turn-based RPG, similar to the famous turn-based JRPG "The Legend of Zelda" series, but with pixel graphics. Gael depicts himself as a young boy who wants to help his grandfather (a half-dragon) to fight a monster that attacks villages with the intention to steal the inhabitants in order to obtain a "sword of dragon's saliva" that is located in their depths. Gael wanted to go and find the sword of dragon's saliva so that his grandfather will become a legendary warrior. On his way, Gael encounters a lot of people and monsters along the way, and the title of the game is Gael's Quest: "The search for the sword of dragon's saliva". If he succeeds, Gael and his grandfather will be able to rejoin the demon whom Gael's grandfather helped to defeat before his battle with the monster, and everyone will be able to escape. But if he fails, Gael's grandfather will be trapped in the dark world forever, and Gael is left alone with the Demon.

Characters*Gael: Gael is the young boy who is in charge of the quest. He is of an unknown family and belongs to the nobility. He is just an adolescent who has not yet been able to make his life decisions, as Gael wants to make sure that nothing happens to his grandfather (a half-dragon). Gael is very brave and has a lot of courage. At the same time, he is very reckless and does not care for his own safety. Gael is a very funny person with a great sense of humor.Gael's Grandfather: Gael's grandfather is a half-dragon who holds the key to defeat the Demon. He is the hero of Gael's quest. He fought against the Demon and won, and the Demon wants to send Gael's grandfather back to the dark world forever in order to keep him away from the Demon. He is a kind-hearted person, and he is very afraid of what will happen to Gael.Ravat: Ravat is Gael's friend, and is one of the people that Gael is traveling with during his quest. In order to help his friend, Ravat entered into a contract with the demon. However, he can help Gael to escape from the demon. What's new in Memories:

- FAQ Guide Battlefield 4™ Community Operations (CO) is Live. Why is CO live? - Battlefield is a game with huge and complicated meta-game. - CO is the best possible tool to help players have a fun game experience. - CO from the beginning focused on player contribution. - CO is very effective of showcasing (and taking benefit) of competitive titles. - Spectators can provide input to teams with relative matchmaking status data. - CO is fun! And when is not fun? Battlefield 4™ Community Operations (CO) is an online community operation to greatly promote the user of Battlefield™ 4 and its competitive meta-game. CO's existence is due to one clear fact: Competitive titles featured very little in the top 10 most subscribed BF4 trailer. So, what is CO? BF4 content is only made available to the players through custom maps and in-game operations. The intent of CO is to provide players with content delivery to the players, a taming of the beast that is EA / DICE's obsession with censorship, and to provide players with tools to create their own content. Where Battlelog/Discord are labels and the internet, CO is innards. CO is a massive number of players, and most participants are flying around and fighting for points on leaderboards. CO is public, but users do not have to log in to participate. Users of CO are participant-to-match ratios, you are attracted to the fights, and not to play against specific users. CO dates all the way back to Battlefield 2.1, when Dogpile was the clan of choice for CO - and it was hacked. CO was not a good idea when it came out, but it has become a huge success. The best part is that, no matter how many guns you kill, the world is bigger and more mature than ever before. How does it work? Battlefield 4™ is a console multiplayer game where one can get killed by another player or even a team of four. Player kills and deaths are not tracked by anything. The only service about CO that tracks kills and deaths, is Player-Abilities (PA) (see screenshot). PA is the best tool to measure CO effectiveness, for it measures the user-to-participation ratio of the operation. CO uses PA and nothing
