Here's a video of how all the new gameplay features work in FIFA 22: There's a lot more to learn about the new game and what makes it different from last year's FIFA 21. And to help you get the most out of the 2014-15 season, the EA SPORTS Football Club team will be regularly blogging and tweeting throughout the season. Check back each week to see what makes this the most realistic experience for the next step in your football journey. This week, the EA SPORTS Football Club Twitter account was busy tweeting out a message that fans should be aware of: At the FIFA Club World Cup, the EA SPORTS Football Club team will be announcing the 2014-15 Champions League winner. The tweet was replied to with a question: Is your Champions League winner going to be announced at the FIFA Club World Cup? Only at the FIFA Club World Cup will you get the real official announcement. We'll post more details on that later this week. Here's a screenshot of the tweet: FIFA 22 What's New Play styles "Superstar 2.0" - New physical play styles that take into account high-intensity, intensive match practices. What this means for you: You'll feel more confident with your FIFA 22 gameplay on the pitch, and feel more powerful with your real-life player actions. You'll also notice a focus on certain passing routes and receiving combinations - situations you can only achieve by physically playing the game in a way that's closer to real football. New Virtual Assistant "Learn mode" - A new way to learn quickly about your club and favourite players, using in-game tutorials. What this means for you: Getting to know your club and players is easier, thanks to in-game tutorials that automatically learn from your gameplay and provide advice as you play. In addition, you'll be able to get a visual at-a-glance profile of any player on the pitch by looking at their virtual training stats. FIFA 22 is available this Fall on Xbox One, PlayStation®4 system, PC, PlayStation 3 system, PlayStation®Vita, Nintendo Wii U, and Windows PC. FIFA 22 will be in stores on November 26, 2014.

What's new:

- FIFA 22 introduces “HyperMotion Technology,” which uses motion capture data collected from 22 real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data collected from player movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power FIFA 22 gameplay.
- FIFA 2102 introduces “Man of the Match”, where fans vote for their favourite moments in a player’s career. You can then see the moment, celebrate with your friends and family and share your memories on social media.
- Welcome the New England Revolution to the USA National Team. You can now play to find out who scores on which pitch in the new season. The country turf templates also include dugouts and player benches.
- FIFA pro clubs are over 10 times larger than their real-world counterparts. The stadiums are more detailed as they are now completely physics-based.
- Clubs can also be assigned to divisions based on each federation’s regular-season league system.
- During postseason matches, most of a team’s squad can be substituted or rotated in for the rest of a match. Substitutions are allowed up until the 80th minute.
- Improvements to substitution rules help save time without sacrificing tactical flexibility.
- For the first time in a FIFA game, broadcasters can now control player substitutions while the game is being played (if they have standard TV rights for the game.)
- FIFA 2102 now features the Expansion Draft, allowing you to build your team using player from the expansion teams. The Expansion team also gets some unique unique stats.
- When your selected player is out, it now appears in the Power Rankings.
- The on-pitch equipment customisation now allows players to layer each piece of equipment as many times as they would like.
- The equipment list for specific outfits has also been added.
- FIFA 2102 release date will be Monday 15 October, 2018,

- for Xbox One, PlayStation 4, and PC.
- Crowds have a choice of displaying the stadium scoreboard or stadium hud. The stadiums also have additional on-pitch features, such as goalposts.
