We are going to get you through this, Earl." "Go ahead, Tim." "The hillbillies are coming." "They're shooting at us from that ridge." "They got a bunch of dogs." "I think they're coming to get us." "Get down." "Oh, my God." "They're gonna kill us." "Looks like they're coming." "Hurry up!" "Push!" "Clear!" "Come on, Earl." "We're getting you out of here." "They're on the roof." "They're going for the chimney." "They gotta find the chimney." "Come on." "Throw the fire." "Hurry up!" "This way." "What are you doing?" "It doesn't look like it's working." "Earl, come on, we gotta go." "Earl?" "Drop it." "Freeze!" "Drop the knife." "Don't shoot, man." "Put the gun down, and drop the knife." "How'd they get in?" "I don't know." "I was sleeping." "Where's Earl?" "Took off, man." "Took off?" "Shit." "Let's go." "I could've killed you, man." "Yeah, a million times." "Gotta go down." "The hillbillies had Earl." "I guess they tortured him, then killed him." "We found a dog kennel back here." "Maybe there's something in there." "There's something out there." "Get down." "You know what?" "We're going." "The bureau's coming." "We're going, right?" "We don't have anything, we're leaving." "We might need something." "What are you talking about?" "What are you talking about?" "Hey, hey, you can't leave us here alone." "We'll be fine." "We got nothing here anyway." "Let's go." "We don't have time." "We can't leave

This is what I wrote for my program As I am using Windows version. my program is in C#. So far I tried to read the file with reader.read() and with Bitmap.FromStream() But the response is the same. A: After reading different answers from other stack overflow threads. I found the answer, using (Stream stream = File.OpenRead(fileName)) { using (BinaryReader binaryReader = new BinaryReader(stream)) { binaryReader.BaseStream.Seek(0, SeekOrigin.Begin); using (var ms = new MemoryStream()) { binaryReader.ReadBytes(ms.Length); ms.Seek(0, SeekOrigin.Begin); ms.WriteTo(swf); swf.Position = 0; } } } Thanks to Charlie that gave a helping hand. Q: Reset system time I have a server, which has a time rollover set to 2014. I keep get prompted when I reboot that the system time has rolled over. The purpose of the clock is only for monitoring purposes so this is not a problem. How can I make the clock stop rolling over? A: Maybe your device needs to be configured. I'm sure the system does not always roll over automatically. It may be a setting you have to change. It's under the software/hardware/time settings. If you are using a desktop and it is the default BIOS setting that is setup. Otherwise you need to configure it by running: sudo ntpdate -s 192.168.0.10 where 192.168.0.10 is your server's NTP address. For more help on the subject of NTP see this question. Q: How to calculate the number of terms in the expansion of $(1+2+3)^{rac}\{1\}\{2\}$!t seems trivial 6d1f23a050
