Version: F1 Dashboard Season 17.2 Author: Tony Briant License: Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 3.0 License Link: COUNTDOWN Launch of the NEW F1 Stats application in the W-League at the end of July! With the start of the 2018/19 W-League Season at the end of this month, we are thrilled to announce the new F1 Stats application as the official tracking tool for the premier women's football league. This new tool provides real-time stats on every match in the season, including final scores, winners, draws and even the number of goals scored in each half - all available in one place on the iStadium. The Arena by Moto is a word play that is inspired by the DNA of the MotoGP Arena track in which the game is taking place. Arena is available from the Google Play Store now and the first season is free. Season pass to access the full roster of riders is $3.99. Update: The Arena is now on iOS with an IAP of $1.99. Kazakhstan's chances of competing in the World Cup got a boost on Saturday with the news of the 22-year-old Andrei Makarov being selected by Russia for the tournament after impressing with the national team at the recent UEFA Nations League campaign. Kazakhstan sit fourth in Group H and were drawn against reigning champions Germany, England, Argentina and Colombia in their first match on June 15 in Moscow. We've managed to work out the temperatures in and around the stadiums - or should we say the under-surface temperatures. Our thermometer, or what most people would call a 'noodle', gives us the temperatures from the ground surface down to a depth of one metre. This means it gives a much better view of what's going on underneath a surface, than a regular thermometer, which is just for the top. This 'thermometer' also comes with our pre-loaded tips so you can save the most common questions for each ground.
